Many people, not aware of the dangers of constipation, neglect the proper remedy till the habit becomes chronic, or inflammation or stoppage results. A dose or two of Ayer's Pills in the beginning would have prevented all this.

MAJOR S. P. HANLY'S DEATH.

ACTION OF THE BAR.

Pursuant to a call by the President of the Bar Association, Col. J. G. Freeze, a meeting of the members of the Bar of Columbia county was held at the office of Geo. E. Elwell, Esq., on Thursday evening, August, 27th, to take action on the death of S. P. Hanley, Esq., of Berwick. A communication from C. C. Evans, Esq., was read, stating that the hour of the funeral had been fixed for half past three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and that it was the wish of the friends that members of the Bar should act as pall bearers. On motion it was resolved that the Bar attend in a body, and the chair designated Messrs. Evans, Dickson, Funk, Fritz, Maize and Wintersteen as pall bearers.

On motion the chair appointed Messrs. Robison, Elwell and White as a committee on Resolutions, and at a meeting of the Bar at the parlor of the St. Charles Hotel, Berwick, immediately before the funeral, the following report was made, and adopted:

"The members of the Bar of Columbia county have learned with deep regret of the death of their friend and associate, Sylvanus P. Hanly, Esq., who departed this life on the morning of August 27th, and we hereby testify our respect to the memory of one who by his geniality endeared himself to all who knew him well. He was admitted to the bar May 10, 1886, and though engaged much of the time in other business, he was possessed of legal ability that fitted him for the active duties of his chosen profession, and which, if he had devoted himself exclusively to the practice of the law, would have made him a distinguished practitioner. He was a polished gentleman, a devoted husband and parent and an active citizen, taking interest in all that was calculated to benefit the community in which he lived.

To the bereaved widow and children we extend our warmest sympathy.

It is directed that these minutes be entered upon the records of the Bar Association."

THE FUNERAL.

Funeral services were held at the residence, at 3:30 o'clock, and the attendance was large. Nearly a car load of people went up from Bloomsburg. The services were conducted by Revs. Hinckle, E. H. Yocum and B. H. Mosser, who in their remarks spoke most feelingly of the deceased, and pronounced high eulogies upon his character and many good qualities. The remains were borne to the Berwick cemetery, and there laid away to await the last trumpet.

The following is taken from the Berwick Independent of last week.

"Sylvanus P. Hanly was born Oct. 31, 1839, at Helena, Ark. His father, Hon. T. B. Hanly, was at one time a member of the Confederate Congress, afterward Judge of the Supreme Court of Arkansas, and died in 1880. His mother, Caroline Phillips Hanly, still lives at the family home in Helena, as does one brother, the last of a family of eleven children. The deceased was educated at St. Joseph's College, Bradstown, Ky. In 1861 he joined his interests with those of the Confederacy and was given an appointment on the staff of Gen. Cleburne with the rank of Major. After the death of Cleburne Mr. Hanly held a similar position on Gen. Braggs' staff. participated in the battle of Shilo, Stone River, Franklin, Chickamaugua, Lookout Mountain, Mission Ridge and many other fields where blue and gray met face to face during that long, stubborn struggle. After the close of the war, in 1866, Mr. Hanly married Eudora Woodin of our town and about 1870 moved to his old home in Arkansas, where they resided until 1878, when they came north as far as Washington, D. C. In the fall of 1879 they returned to Berwick, and have made this their home ever since. Mrs. Hanly with two sons, Thomas B. and Woodin W. and a daughter, Mrs. R W. Oswald, survive the deceased."

Schoedler of Turbotville made some very applicable remarks on the subject of church support and benevolence. Rev. Sorber of Watsontown also participated in the services.

The church was decorated for the occasion with all the grain and fruits grown in the community. The floral world was also represented. The church was never more handsomely decorated than on this occasion. Those entrusted with this work deserve great credit for their skill in decoration.

THE SINGER CONTROVERSY.

Two weeks ago we announced that no further communication on the Singer matter would be published in THE COLUMBIAN. Had we known to what it was going to lead, the first communication on the subject would not have appeared. Each succeeding article brought in some new name, and that individual then claimed the right to be heard, and it was accorded him, in each instance, but when communications and affidavits came pouring in from both sides, it was deemed time to stop. However as Mr. Singer was first assailed the following letter from him, and extract from the New Martinsville Republican is published at the urgent request of several of our subscribers, and then it positively ends. As was said before, a church tribunal should try the case, and not the newspapers. All further communications will surely be rejected, from whatever source.

A few lines have been stricken out of Mr. Singer's letter, as they do not strengthen it materially, and would open the door for replies from other parties, which we must decline in advance.

CALIFORNIA, Pa., Aug. 28, 1891.
Editor of the COLUMBIAN:

I claim the right to answer A. W. Conner's letter. When I wrote my first article I wrote in self defense, in answer to D. M. Kinter who had made a personal attack on me. There are six men at Stillwater who certify that Connor had told what they knew to be positive falsehoods about me. A man who will maliciously lie about another—would induce others to do the same. If this man Conner as the State Evangelist is so tenacious for the purity of the pulpit, why don't he get out of it. When Conner says that the Elders at Stillwater wanted to be his accusers and Judges he knows that he uttered a base falsehood. They offered to let him choose one Elder from an adjoining church, they would choose one, and the two would choose the third—and the time was fixed for him to appear; he failed to do so.

Conner flies in the face of the Elders at Stillwater, and the Elders at Zion, and intends to try to wreak out his vengeance on me. I inclose the finding of the Elders after hearing all that Conner had to say, as well as all of his witnesses and helpers; as well as the Editor of the California Messenger, and the Wetzel Republican, men of honor with whom I have been acquainted for a great many years; ten honorable christian men from Stillwater and Benton, have given me a statement "that they believe that this is a wicked, devilish conspiracy to destroy my influence as a preacher of the gospel." R. H. SINGER.

The following article is from the New Martinsville Republican:

"As an item of news that will prove interesting to many of our readers, we pubilsh the following as taken from the California, Pa., Messenger, where Mr. Singer has lived for a long number of years. A. W. Conner, the State Evangelist, has told some things about Singer for which he was convicted of falsehood. Through revenge, he then preferred charges against Singer before his home congregation at Zion, Washington county, Pa., for "immoral and unchristian conduct." The trial was held August 6th, 1891. The verdict reads:

"We, the Elders of the Church of Christ at Zion, Speers P. O., Washington county, Pa., after due consideration of the testimony in the case of A. W. Conner the State Evangelist, and others, against R. H. Singer for immoral and unchristian conduct, find that he is not guilty, SAMUEL FRY.
JOHN FRY."

To which the following postscript was added:

"Conner and his allies went back fifteen years in their effort to find something to condemn Bro. Singer, and signally failed."

The editor of the Messenger adds the following;

"It does seem as though the stories told on Rev. Singer abroad, were prompted by a spirit of jealousy. His long residence in this place and the esteem in which he is held by his neighbors, is certainly in strange contrast with the charges preferred against him at Zion last week. We are pleased to hear of his triumphant vindication, and hope for a continuance of the success with which his name has become familiar."

The editors of the REPUBLICAN wish to add that they have been intimately acquainted with R. H. Singer for at least fourteen years. He has ever had our confidence as an earnest Christian man, and an able and successful preaching of the gospel. We, too, rejoice that his enemies were not successful in their evil work. Thousands of precious souls rejoice in a Saviour's love and power through the preaching of Elder Singer, and may he live to bring thousands more to the same happy condition.

Coming Shamokin Fair.

IT WILL ECLIPSE ALL OTHERS AND THE ASSOCIATION WILL MAKE THINGS BOOM.

Since the organization of the Shamokin driving park association, many successful fairs have been held, but the past will not equal the future one at the driving park opening September 8 and closing on the 11th. Many horsemen will be present from different parts of the country, and the exhibition by the noted equestrienne, Miss Myrtie Peek will eclipse all previous exhibitions ever given by any horseman. The association has been fortunate in securing Miss Peek and only did so at an enormous expense. The premiums offered are larger than ever before, and this alone is sufficient proof that the racing will be of the finest. The park has undergone improvements and the thousands of people who flock to the races will find the best accommodations. The people of Shamokin and vicinity realize the attraction of the fair and are enthusiastic over the coming event.

A Baltimore Belle Captures a Noble Lord.

A SENSATION IN FASHIONABLE CIRCLES IN SARATOGA.

Among the arrivals at one of the hotels yesterday in Saratoga were two stylishly dressed and beautiful young girls accompanied by an elderly lady and three servants. They registered from Baltimore, and it was learned that they were reigning belles in that city. The eldest sister had just entered her twentieth year. Her friends tendered her a delightful reception, and she was the recipient of many unique and costly gifts.

Her fiance arrived upon the brilliant scene driving a pair of perfectly matched cream-colored ponies, handling cream-colored reins with gold buckles, and attached to a cream-colored dog-cart with gold trimmings elaborately mounted. These he presented to the lady of his choice; and at an early hour the following day the chief designer of The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar received a message from the ladies to produce within the next five days four pale-cream India silk dresses of the same tint as that of the gold-tipped dog-cart. The proprietor of The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar will spare no pains to make these natty driving costumes the most showy and gorgeous of the season. The design which struck their fancy was that shown in Fig. 5 of the September number of The New York and Paris Young Ladie' Fashion Bazar. But where that dress is designed in pink, their dresses are to be finished in pale ecru. The frill on the sleeves of Fig. 5 will be jauntily looped up with real pearls set in gold buckles. The September number, containing this magnificent design, is now for sale at all newsstands. Price 25 cents.

PROSPICE.

Fear death?—to feel the fog in my throat,
The mist in my face,
When the snows begin, and the blasts denote
I am nearing the place.
The power of the night, the press of the storm.
The post of the foe,
Where he stands the Arch Fear in a visible form?
Yet the strong man must go;
For the journey is done and the summit attained
And the barriers fall.
Though a battle to fight ere the guerdon be gained,
The reward of it all!
I was ever a fighter, so—one fight more,
The best and the last!
I would hate that death bandaged my eyes and forebore,
And bade me creep past.
No! let me taste the whole of it, fare like my peers,
The heroes of old,
Bear the brunt, in a minute pay glad life's arrears
Of pain, darkness, and cold.
For sudden the worst turns the best to the brave,
The black minute's at end,
And the elements rage, the fiend voices that rave,
Shall dwindle and blend,
Shall change, shall become first a peace out of pain,
Then a light, then thy breast,
O thou soul of my soul! I shall clasp thee again,
And with God be the rest!

BITTER BUT WHOLESOME.

Mrs. Hale had left the outside door slightly ajar. From behind the folds of the library portiere came the sounds of a conversation Katherine could hardly have avoided hearing.

"I don't see how, with his fastidiousness, he can endure boarding there," said Mildred.

"What I fail to understand is how, with her intellect, she can forego neatness to the degree she does," added May.

"Katherine is a good cook," Mildred continued. "At least the results of her efforts in the culinary line taste well. One who knows Katherine, however, feels a trifle uncertain concerning the possible stage an article may have passed through before reaching the table an entity."

Another voice—with a pained sensation Katherine recognized it as that of Helen Armour, the Hale girl's guest—interposed:

"Now do you know, girls, I don't believe I've given a thought to her looks since our first meeting. Don't you think her very entertaining? It seems to me she remembers everything she has ever read. How at home she was among those foreign photographs I brought you! There doesn't appear to be a topic of the day that she isn't familiar with. Don't you remember how delightfully willing she was to sit down and play us that Schubert air we were discussing? I thought her just charming."

"So she is, that way," exclaimed Mildred. "Most of the time even I forget the rest. Perhaps that accounts for Dr. Neale's long stay. Her merits dim her faults."

"But didn't she look extremely untidy coming up the walk just now? I couldn't help speaking plainly. I hope you won't think us too critical of our friend, Helen. Her heart is all right."

"That's so," said May Hale, "Katherine is true blue. We are very fond of her, indeed, Helen."

Katherine Orr stood waiting quietly on the side steps, when Mrs. Hale brought her the recipe she had run over to borrow. She took the paper absently, and hurried through the gate in the fence dividing the two homesteads.

"So that's what they think of me," she pondered, mechanically taking off the shabby hat she wore, and idly whirling it in her hand, as she swayed back and forth in the old kitchen rocker.

Katherine Orr was a clear headed young woman, and always weighed things. As her friends declared, it was strange that, being so well balanced, she seemed unable to discern her greatest defect. But now she had begun to think.

"Is this true?" she deprecatingly questioned. As she glanced with critical eye about the sunny kitchen she beheld affirmative evidence of her friends' words.

The hard pine floor needed a thorough oiling, the windows showing decided lack of care, the rusty iron sink and the copper pump mottled with green, assumed new aspects in Katherine's quickened sight.

She sighed as she turned from the room to herself. The indigo blue wrapper spotted with dust and water, the dingy hands, the long, irregular line of black showing on her arm as the loose sleeve was pushed up, were all silent but eloquent messengers to Katherine's thought.

There was no doubt that she had a fault that needed eradicating. But a general overturn meant endless talk and wonder among those very friends who most eagerly desired such a change. The untidy habits had grown upon her slowly. In the same almost imperceptible manner they must be put away.

She could understand now why it was that the one boarder she wished to keep to eke out her own and her invalid mother's small income was always in a state of going.

The Orr homestead, with its green lawn, its wide veranda, its large, sunny rooms, seemed a delightful abode, scanned superficially; but there was an atmosphere about it that proved unhealthful to every new comer. Katherine felt the oppressiveness of it to-day.

As boy and girl, Katherine Orr and Donald Neale had fought against each other for first rank at school. Whichever won, the other took the defeat good-naturedly.

It was a great disappointment to them both when Donald joined the freshman class at Harvard, that the death of Katherine's father left her without sufficient means to enter the Annex.

Katherine bore the deprivation bravely, determined that if not by one way then by another she would match Donald's attainments. Well, she had succeeded in part, but had it not been at a cost?

She had neglected her housework and disregarded her appearance, to study, think, and write. She was what the world calls a cultured woman. Was she, in truth, a refined one? Katherine had courage to answer that question aright. She saw "the little rift within the lute."

It is not necessary to enter into a minute account of Katherine Orr's reform. In the dark, unseen corners of her home she begun. Day after day, week after week, she worked. For one pair of hands it was a long, laborious process to renovate the old house. Soap, sand, water, and a willing disposition can work wonders, however. Attention to details at the start saved many a tired feeling later.

Plenty of baths and fresh air could not fail to produce their beautifying bodily effects. A ready needle and a washtub are valuable factors in keeping one's working apparel in presentable condition.

It was a long time—years—before she could say confidently there had been a complete change, or feel assured there were no reasonable grounds of criticism in her regime.

Three years later Helen Armour was again at her friends', the Hales.

"Oh Mildred! who is that splendid looking woman coming up the walk?" she eagerly asked, the morning after her arrival.

"That? That's Katherine Orr—Katherine Neale, I mean. You remember her, don't you?"

"Katherine Orr! Why, yes, I remember her well; but hasn't she changed greatly?" Helen doubtfully replied:

"Changed? Perhaps; I haven't thought about it. We see her daily, you know. Possibly you notice more."

"She certainly has changed, and for the better," Helen emphatically responded. "And so she really married that nice Dr. Neale?"

"Of course," exclaimed May half indignantly. "We always knew she would."

"Did you? Why, I thought—" but on consideration Helen kept her thought to herself.

"Who wants an invitation to 'a feast of reason and a flow of soul?' In other words, who wishes to take tea with the Neales to-morrow night?" Katherine gaily queried, as she came into the library.

Helen came forward to shake hands cordially. "From my remembrance of other feasts of reason, I, for one, shall strain every nerve to be there," she merrily said.

"Tea? Tea at Katherine's? That means Nectar! Ambrosia! Olympus!" May melodramatically interrupted. "We'll wash the dishes, Katherine," she added in a stage whisper.

"I'd like to see your vandal hands laid on Katherine Neale's dishes, May Hale. You know you'd never do them to suit her. She's very particular, that Katherine Neale," Mildred explained to Helen.

Katherine's eyes shone.

"You made me so, girls," she said.

"We? Now what do you mean Katherine?"

Katherine told them of the conversation she heard so long ago.

"It was hard discipline, girls, but it did me good. The medicine was bitter but wholesome."

Helen leaned forward and touched Katherine's hand caressingly. "'We rise by the things that are under our feet,'" she gently quoted.

"But, oh, Katherine," cried Mildred, "it was cruel of us. We would not say such a thing now."

"You could not, truly," was the quiet response. And Katherine was, as she felt, mistress of the situation.—[Martha Fairbanks Blanchard.

Amateur Photography.

A photographer who has been in business for many years was asked recently if the numerous amateurs engaged in his line of work had diminished the number of his patrons. He replied: "No; I do not believe it has. While the outfits which are furnished at such low prices are capable of producing very fair work, yet the services of a person skilled in the art are necessary to insure the best results, and photographers earn considerable money by completing the work which the amateurs have begun. The majority of these amateurs are attracted at the outset by the novelty of the work, and look upon it for awhile as a pastime, but most of them soon tire of it, especially after some of their unsuccessful attempts to produce good work have been ridiculed by their friends. The numerous labor saving inventions which have been brought out by the large demand for inexpensive apparatus has had the effect of materially reducing the cost to the professional photographer, and has thus been of substantial benefit to those who depend upon their skill in the art for a livelihood."

Flowers as Food.

Not only rose leaves and violets, but nasturtiums and other flowers, are now candied and eaten.

These flower eaters call themselves authophagists—a word which certainly must not be confounded with anthropophagists, since that means cannibals. "Anthophagist" is derived from the Greek words anthos, a flower, and phagein, to eat.

Although violets as a confectionery and a table delicacy are something comparatively new, it is really not a new thing to eat flowers in some shape. The cabbage is really only a splendid flower, and the cauliflower is not misnamed. It is an inflorescence or blossoming which has thickened into a sort of fleshy head.

The blossom of the artichoke has often been used as a food. In France the yellow water lilly and the blossoms of the locust have long been used as food.

Flowers, it is said, are, when eaten, generally wholesome as well as agreeable.—[Youth's Companion.

THE CZAR'S SHOT PROOF CAR.

How the Emperor of Russia Travels Among His Loving Subjects.

When the czar travels in Russia the precautions taken for his safety could not be greater if he were in the enemy's country, writes a foreign correspondent. A battalion of infantry is detailed for every two miles of distance, and allowing 500 men as the effective force of each battalion, every spot of ground on both sides of the track is covered by sentinels within easy distance of each other. The czar is suddenly whirled off to the station accompanied by a chosen twelve of his bodyguard, without pomp or circumstance, swiftly and silently. The czar always travels in a train of five carriages. His carriage is built in a peculiar style.

The windows, while ample for light, are high, so that a person sitting down is invisible from the outside, and the sides of the car are fortified with plates of steel concealed in the ornamental woodwork, but amply strong to resist a bullet. There are two sentry boxes in the carriage, one at each end and each looking out at an opposite side from the other. The guardsmen on duty in these apartments are shut in from any observation of the interior of the carriage, but at intervals of about two feet, the whole length of the saloon, are electric buttons communicating with the guard chambers, as well as with the two carriages, one containing the suite, and the other, in the rear, occupied by the guardsmen not on duty. So far, therefore, as the train itself is concerned, the czar could be no more secure in St. Petersburg.

The train speeds along to its destination without a halt, except on account of accident. At a distance of not less than five miles ahead is a pioneer train, in which the imperial director of railways and the chief engineer of the particular railway on which the czar is traveling, always ride. As the pilot train whizzes by the reserves along the line rush to arms and guard the sides of the railway, waiting until the imperial train has passed, so that the spectacle is present of continuous lines of soldiery for hundreds of miles. Arrived at the end of his journey, the czar is escorted to the quarters intended for the imperial family.

The streets are guarded by special constables, in the attire of citizens. Every property holder has been called upon to supply one or more of these men at his own expense to do duty when the sovereign makes a public appearance. The constables average one in ten of the crowd that throngs the streets, and being in ordinary dress, they can mingle with the people, note what is said, and perhaps do something that will obtain them regular employment among the secret police. With one-tenth the population engaged as spies upon the remainder, with troops enough concentrated to stand a formidable siege, and his faithful guardsmen dogging every step, the czar goes through the forms of a visit to the ancient capital of Russia, or whatever city he may choose to honor.

Educated for Matrimony.

Among the graduates of the year one brave young woman has completed a course frankly taken in preparation for matrimony. Like many girls who make society amusements their chief existence, this young woman did not realize the deficiencies in her education until she had won the friendship and love of one who was her superior in intellectual acquirements. With the realization of her ignorance came the determination to study for self improvement. Entering as a pupil at a well known school for girls she took courses in literature, philosophy, and other studies, which would enable her to write and speak with accuracy and would teach her the best methods of thought. She entered classes of political economy and studied the newspapers under competent direction. Urging her teachers to correct all imperfections in her speech and manner, she made constant effort to attain the standard which might bring her nearer to an equality with her future husband. The struggle was not easy. There were trials of pride in studying with girls of a more youthful age; there were many moments of mortification from the exposure of her ignorance. Determination to succeed won its usual rewards. The young society girl, whose bright mind had been eclipsed by the routine of pleasure, became renowned in the school as one of the most earnest and satisfactory pupils. When she graduated this year into the refined home that has been in preparation for her she will meet her husband upon an equality, and entertain his friends with a feeling of cheerful confidence. She says that the whole world seems more stable since she has been sure that her sentences are grammatical and her pronunciation according to the best authorities.—Boston Journal.

How Certain Fishes Eat.

The carp carries his teeth back in his throat, so that when he has a sore throat he does not know whether to send for the doctor or the dentist.

The horseshoe crab chews its food with its legs, which is a very curious thing even for a crab to do, while the oyster feeds with its beard.

The jelly fish hasn't any teeth, but uses himself just as if he were a piece of paper when he is hungry, getting his food and then wrapping himself about it.

The starfish, on the contrary, turns himself inside out and wraps his food around him, and stays that way until he has had enough.—Harper's Young People.

An Aluminium Boat.

An aluminium boat, propelled by electricity from an aluminium battery, is being constructed by the inventor, D. J. Cable, of Pittsburg, Pa. The battery, Mr. Cable says, will weigh but a couple of pounds, and will be sufficient to produce the power necessary for running a pleasure boat of good size. A boat of this metal capable of carrying from four to six persons can be made of a weight not exceeding 60 or 70 pounds, and would be very easily handled. Mr. Cable states that he has found means of overcoming the great difficulty aluminium presents to soldering.

WHAT IS SAPOLIO?

It is a solid handsome cake of scouring soap which has no equal for all cleaning purposes except in the laundry. To use it is to value it...

What will SAPOLIO do? Why it will clean paint, make oil-cloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the grease off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath-tub, even the greasy kitchen sink will be as clean as a new pin if you use SAPOLIO. One cake will prove all we say. Be a clever housekeeper and try it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

What Keeps Women Young.

A woman is happy just in proportion as she is content, writes Edward W. Bok in the September Ladies' Home Journal. The sun has a way of changing the spots upon which it shines. Especially is this true of our land, where one is up to-day and down to-morrow, and vice versa. The wisest woman is she who trusts in a to-morrow, but never looks for it. To sit down and wish that this might be, that that would be different, does a woman no good. It does her harm in that it makes her dissatisfied with herself, unpleasant to her friends, and makes her old before her time. Happiness is not always increased in proportion to enlarged success. This may sound like an old saw, and I think it is, but there is a world of wisdom in many an old proverb just the same. Contentment is a wonderful thing to cultivate. There would be fewer premature-old women in the world if it was given more of a trial and it became a more universal quality in womanhood.

Modern Miracles.

A singer for breath was distressed,
And the doctors all said she must rest,
But she took G. M. D.
For her weak lungs, you see,
And now she can sing with the best.

An athlete gave out, on a run,
And he feared his career was quite done;
G. M. D., pray observe,
Gave back his lost nerve,
And now he can lift half a ton.

A writer, who wrote for a prize,
Had headaches and pain in the eyes;
G. M. D., was the spell
That made him quite well,
And glory before him now lies.

These are only examples of the daily triumphs of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in restoring health and reviving wasted vitality. Sold by all druggists.

Dr. Cuyler tells the story of a little boy, the son of good Presbyterian parents, who was asked the question in the cathecism: "What is man's chief end?" and he answered it, "Man's chief end is to glorify God and annoy him forever." There are too many men, says Dr. Cuyler, who act as if that were their chief end.

The celebrated Scotch preacher, in his subversive sermon on the ark, mentioned the taunts of boys as among the severest trials of the patriarch Noah, when engaged on a shipbuilding enterprise for which there seemed no immediate occasion. "My brethren, there's naething sae evil as a human boy. If ye have a sair place in your heart, he'll just put his finger on it. HOW TO SUCCEED.

THE IMPORTANCE OF STARTING RIGHT THE BEST INVESTMENT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

Occasionally a man succeeds in business with very little knowledge of the details of commercial transactions But the man who wins success under such circumstances cuts his way through the business world with a dull axe. How much broader a path he might cut, and how much more easily and rapidly, were he equipped with a practical knowledge of business details and laws governing commercial transactions—the art of dealing with his fellow men.

The importance of thorough, practical business education is daily more appreciated. Almost every kind of business is conducted on a higher plane. Profits are smaller than formerly, necessitating greater volume of business, with greater expense for rent, fixtures, help etc. This creates an imperative demand for greater accuracy and speed and improved methods of keeping accounts. Young men and women who can not keep books by the best system, but who can always receive dictation in shorthand, manipulate the typewriter and conduct correspondence, and who have a general aptitude for transacting business, need never want for employment at good salaries. The number of graduates from our business colleges who are experts in these special qualifications is but a fraction of the demand.

The erroneous idea that a business education is of no use to a farmer, is, for the most part, a thing of the past. Farmers are beginning to appreciate more fully the importance of being able to dispose of farm products to the best advantage—to convert them into the largest amount of money with the least expenditure of time and labor. Agricultural journals urge the value of keeping an accurate system of accounts with the farm, thus demonstrating the comparative profits of various crops and methods, and enabling the farmer to keep a closer watch upon his expenses, and to avoid countless financial "leaks" which inevitably result from haphazard methods A thorough course in a first-class business college is one of the most profitable investments the young farmer can make.

One of the most prominent and prosperous institutions of this kind in this section is the Wilkes-Barre Business College. This college was started as a night school in 1885 and incorporated in 1887. Considering its age, the size of the city, and its proximity to other commercial schools, its success exceeds that of any simular institution in the country. Its growth has been steady and healthful, each year having shown a substantial increase in attendance.

This is not a school for teaching bookkeeping and penmanship alone. While these are of vital importance, there are other accomplishments scarcely less essential to those who would win success in the business world in these days of sharp competition. Among the more important of these, all of which are taught by the most practical and thorough methods, are stenography, typewriting, spelling, grammar commercial law and arithmetic. The practical business department gives thorough training in banking, stocks and bonds, drafting all kinds of commercial paper—in fact for the transaction of all kinds of business. The theories are applied by a system of actual practice based upon the methods of the most successful establishments of the commercial world.

The College now rests upon a firmer foundation than ever before. backed by ample capital and supported by a vigorous, intelligent management, whose permanency seems assured. It commands the respect and friendship of the progressive people of Wilkes-Barre, as well as the hearty good will of students and graduates. Mr. G. L. Baldwin, the senior principal, has had many years of successful experience in active business. He is a broad gauge man, of keen perceptions and firmness of purpose, a close student of human nature, possessing administrative ability which especially qualifies him for his position. After mature deliberation he entered this institution with the fixed purpose of making the occupation his life work. The associate principal, Prof. A. W, Moss, is a born educator. To his natural inclination are added the qualifications which come of long, industrious study and ripe experience in school management. Thoroughness is a distinguishing trait. Prizing knowledge for the satisfaction of knowing and realizing its powerful leverage in raising its possessors above their less fortunate fellows in the struggle for subsistance he applies himself with conscientious zeal to the task of giving his pupils the best possible qualifications for the duties which will confront them in their business career. The faculty comprises, also, such a corps of competent assistants as such principals might naturally be expected to employ. Each department is in charge of a specialist fully qualified for the duties in hand. The Board of Trustees consists of men of influence and standing, and some of them, notably Hon. C. A. Miner, President of the Board; Dr. F. C. Johnson, of the Wilkes-Barre Record, S. L. Brown and Hon. C. D. Foster are especially active in looking after the interests of the college.

The college is adding to its facilites and reaching out to broader fields, with every indication of an important increase in attendance from distant points during the coming year. A neat catalogue is issued, giving full particulars, with lists of graduates, and this will be sent free to all who request it.—Scranton Republican.

The above notice of one of our advertisers is cordially commended to the young people and parents of this neighborhood. If the college were not already known as one of the most reliable of such institutions, the endorsement of so high an authority as the Scranton Republican should be sufficient.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31, 1891.

The Blaine-Harrison business is believed to be nearing a crisis, and the prediction is made by shrewd observers that within the next sixty days one of them will announce that he will not accept the Presidential nomination of his party, if it be tendered to him. Mr. Harrison is decidedly averse to being that one, and his friend, Secretary Foster, will visit Bar Harbor within ten days for the purpose of trying to make Mr. Blaine take the position of "loyalty" towards his chief which Russel Harrison's newspapers have assigned to him, by writing a letter for publication over his own signature stating that he is not willing to become a candidate and that he is for Harrison. One would suppose from the talk of the personal friends of these two men that the republican party was their personal property and that when they had decided what they wished to be done that party must slavishly obey that decision. This sort of thing must be aggravating to self-respecting republicans, who must think it is high time for the party to go out of existence when it is confined in its choice of candidates to two men.

Representative Herbert, of Alabama, who is understood to be a candidate for the vacancy on the Inter-State Commerce Commission made by the death of Hon. W. L. Bragg, of the same State, is in town. Alabama has several other candidates for the vacancy, among them Judge Morrill and Col. Shorter. There are also lots of candidates from other states, including ex Senator Reagan and Representative Culbertson, of Texas, and ex-Congressman Hammond, of Georgia. The appointment will go, by law, to a democrat.

Mr. Wanamaker has a grand scheme to get something for nothing. He has sent a circular letter to all postmasters at county seats to visit all the postoffices in their counties, at their own expense, and report their condition to him. That's a case of cheek.

There is a well founded suspicion that the State department, is trying to "pull the wool over the eyes of the colored brother with regard to the vacant position of U. S. Minister to Hayti. It is stated semi-officially that the department on account of circumstances which it deems inadvisable to make public, will not fill the vacancy for some time to come, but that the appointment will probably eventually go to a colored man. This is expected to quiet the colored voters until after the fall elections, when Mr. Blaine will carry out his intention of selecting a white man for the place, trusting to luck to bamboozle the negro voters with other half-way promises before the time comes to hold another election. It is not certain, however, that this plan will succeed, as many of the more intelligent negroes are fully aware of what is going on, and if they can only agree upon any one of the many negro candidates for the place, it is impossible for them to compel his appointment before the fall elections are held.

A smile crosses the face of the average naval officer when he hears anyone speak of Secretary Tracy's efforts to have the mechanics in the navy yards appointed on their merits and not on their political "pull." The fact of the matter is that naval officers generally take no stock in this alleged reform One of them said on the subject: "Bah! it is simply nauseating to sensible people who know anything about the manner in which the best assignments in the navy are made, to be told that the mechanics in the navy yards are to be appointed solely on their merits as developed by competitive examinations. It is not probable that such a reform is really intended by the same authorities who, unless they are wofully ignorant, must know that it is the officers who know how to intrigue, and above all those who possess that mysterious something known as a political "pull" that receive all of the best assignments in the navy, and not the officers who have made the best records. This is true from the acting Admiral down, and until it is changed I shall be slow to credit the Secretary of the Navy with any sincere reform intentions, no matter what orders he may issue."

The admin stration will have a bitter pill to swallow in recognizing the Congressional party as the legal government of China, as it must now be. It should prove a warning to the State department which should compel our ministers abroad to keep their fingers out of the internal affairs of the countries they are accredited to.

SEAL PIRATES FIRED UPON.

The Russian Man of War Alert Captures a Canadian Schooner.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 1.—The sealing schooner Geneva has arrived here. She is the first home of those venturesome schooners that made the Russian side of the sea. Two days after reaching Behring sea she was ordered out by H. M. S. Pleasant, and Captain Seward, knowing his owners would be heavy losers if he came home, made for the Russian side, and brought up twelve miles off the rookery at Copper island.

He ran in between the American schooners Teresa and J. Hamilton Lewis, and at once sent a boat to the former to see what luck she had. The Teresa gave the news that on Aug. 2 Captain Alexander McLean, of the Ilich, was ashore in two boats, when ten Russian guards rushed on them over the sand hills and started shooting with rifles. Only Captain McLean was struck. His kneecap was smashed and his left hand hit.

Then both schooners made off to their position, twelve miles from Copper Island. The Russian man-of-war Alert, thirteen guns, the next day steamed out after the three schooners at full speed. All of them put on every stitch of canvas, and for twelve miles there was a long chase. Then the wind fell off and she came up to within a mile of the Lewis and fired a ball that smashed the bowsprit in halves and brought her to. The Lewis was taken in tow and rapidly disappeared.

ALMY'S HIDING PLACE SEARCHED.

He Had a Large Braid of Christie Warden's Hair.

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 1.—A search was made in Mr. Warden's cattle barn, in which the murderer, Frank C. Almy, hid for so long a time without detection, which resulted in the finding of the necktie case which Christie Warden gave her murderer as a Christmas gift.

Other articles were also found, among them a silver napkin ring, some pencilled sketches made by Christie, a large braid of the victim's hair, a dozen verses of sentimental poetry in the murderer's handwriting and a package of four handkerchiefs, marked with the initial "C." From the same hiding place were also taken ten unopened cans of salmon, sardines and corned beef, besides a bottle half full of Medford rum.

TROOPS COMPLIMENTED.

Lieutenant Bowen, of the Regular Army, Commends the Bicycle Corps.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Lieutenant William H. Bowen, of the army, who inspected the Connecticut National Guard during its recent encampment, has sent to the war department a very complimentary report giving the result of his observations. A novelty of the encampment was a special bicycle service by a corps of First regment men, and this feature is specially commended.

Twenty-three Killed.

STATESVILLE, N. C., Aug. 28.—The most disastrous railroad accident known in the history of North Carolina occurred on the Western North Carolina railroad, two miles west of this place at 2 a. m. Twenty-three persons have been taken from the wreck dead or have died since and twenty-five are wounded. The dead are as follows.

Engineer William West, Salisbury; Fireman Warren Fry, Salisbury; Baggagemaster Hugh K. Linster, Statesville; W. M. Houston, merchant, Greensboro; Perry Barnett, Asheville; Samuel Gorman, Asheville; Charles Barnett, Asheville; Jule Thifer traveling salesman; W. J. Nisber, Campbella; W. E. Winslow, Asheville; — Davies, Statesville; an unknown one legged man; J. S. Austin, Hickory; Mrs. George McCormick, Elmwood; Mrs. White, Memphis, Tenn.; unknown lady, ring on finger, inside of which is engraved "L. H. W. to L. L. R.;" an unknown colored man; Mrs. Pool, Williamston, drowned; T. Brodie, New York, traveling for a glove house; Rev. James M. Sikes, Clarkesville, Tenn.; Dick Wells, colored porter; Miss Ophelia Moore, Helena, Ark.

Washburne Wants Blaine.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Senator Washburn, of Minnesota, who has just returned from Europe, has expressed himself quite freely in reference to the next presidential campaign. The senator characterizes the recent reports of Secretary Blaine's ill health as a conspiracy to kill Mr. Blaine politically and physically. In reference to Mr. Blaine's candidacy for the presidency in 1892, Mr. Washburne said:

"Harrison will not be a candidate before the convention when he sees the unanimous drift towards Blaine next spring. He will cordially support Blaine. I know that the entire northwest is for Blaine, and has been for years. I want to declare myself strongly for Blaine."

Sherman and Free Coinage.

PAULDING, O., Aug. 28.—In a campaign speech here Senator Sherman said that unlimited coinage of silver would rob the treasury of millions. Free coinage was impracticable. The experience of the world, the speaker said, belies the statement that free coinage will raise the price of silver to the ratio of gold. In no country in the world where free coinage exists is sixteen ounces of silver equal to one ounce of gold. Free coinage would not give more money for our labor and products. The farmer would not be benefited with a cheaper dollar. It would make more dollars necessary for his wants.

Will It Be General Wells?

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A special to The Mail and Express from Rutland says the fact comes from undoubted authority that General William Wells, ex-collector of Burlington and head of the large wholesale drug manufacturing house of Wells & Richardson, of Burlington, will succeed Mr. Proctor as secretary of war. General Wells was one of Sheridan's favorite cavalry officers.

Attacked by a Lion.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—While Robinson's circus parade was in progress several of the big Nubian lions commenced fighting, and Lowlof, the equestrian director, tried to quiet them. One of the lions struck him some terrible blows, laying his skull bare, cutting his neck in a fearful manner and wounding him severely.

A Purse for Corbett and Mitchell.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—President Noel, of the Olympic Athletic club, has telegraphed Jim Corbett, offering him a purse of $11,000 for a fight to a finish with Charley Mitchell. Corbett has accepted the offer, and a cablegram has been sent to Mitchell with a request for an early reply.

The Pope's Successor.

ROME, Sept. 1.—Excitement prevails in Rome over the coming papal conclave. It is said that Pope Leo desires a foreigner, and especially a Frenchman, to succeed him.

The Southern People Have Combined to Show The Great Natural Advantages of Soil And Climate in That Part of Our Union

NORTHERN MANUFACTURES INVITED TO SHOW WHAT THEY HAVE TO SELL.

The fourteen Southern States, and New Mexico and Arizona, have joined in establishing in the city of Raleigh, the capital of North Carolina, a Permanent Exhibit of their products and resources. This effort is made under the direction of the several State governments. The location is an admirable one. The two principal railroad systems of the South pass through Raleigh. The Richmond & Danville has a traffic combination with the Pennsylvania Railroad; and the Seaboard Air Line has connected with it the Old Dominion Line and the Bay Line of steamships, making direct routes of travel between Raleigh and the northern cities.

The Permanent Exhibit opens May 15th 1891. From the 1st of October to the 1st of December, 1891, a great Southern Exposition will be held. The Southern people fully understand that their section is peculiarly adapted to the production of fruits, vegetables and all agricultural crops; and that northern states are the manufacturing section of the Union. Therefore, and dealers in machinery and manufactured goods are invited to join with the South and show at the Southern Exposition the latest labor-saving devices of every description.

We are pleased to see this willingness on the part of the Southern people to join hands in real earnest. It shows that they are willing to have northern manufactures sell them goods. Every manufacturer in the North should avail himself of this invitation; it will not only pay directly, but it will show the Souhern people that the northern manufacturers and dealers appreciate their friendly disposition manifested, and are ready to join with them in all industrial movements.

Anotner feature will be an exhibit showing the advancement of the negroes, managed entirely by themselves. Each southern state will have its special negro Commissioner who will preside over and have the control of the exhibit from his state. This exhibit will in itself draw thousands of people from all over the land, to learn of the progress made by this people which, less than a generation ago, were in slavery.

Hon. Jno. T. Patrick, the leader in industrial progress in the southern states, has been made Secretary, and has already established his headquarters at Raleigh, N. C. His efforts for the past ten years, to bring about friendly business relations between the North and South, especially fit him for this work He was unanimously elected to the position by a convention of more than six hundred delegates appointed by the Governors of the several southern states, and Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of all large southern cities.

Mr. Patrick is not only Secretary of the Southern Exposition, but is Commissioner of the Department of Information of the Southern Inter-States Immigration Bureau. It is his special duty to furnish information about any southern subject. This is done through a system of co-operation that has been inaugurated between Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and Immigration Bureaus all over the the southern states. The way it is done is certainly a systematic arrangement. Any one desiring information should write to Mr. Patrick, at Raleigh, N. C. Mr. Patrick has the letter printed and sent to various cities and towns, and the inquirer receives directly and authentically the information desired. This is all done without any cost to the inquirer; as the southern states have joined in sustaining this organization.

The Bureau is managed by an Executive Committee composed of one member from each state, who is elected by the delegates from his state appointed by the Governor. The General Manager is Gen. F. B. Chilton, of Texas. The permanent exhibit and the Southern Exposition are under the management of this Organization; and as the Southern States are united in this understanding, we predict for it a good success.

Saved

—the life that is fighting against Consumption.

Only—act promptly.

Put it off, and nothing can save you. But, if taken in time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will certainly cure.

It must be done through the blood—and the "Discovery" is the most potent blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder that's known to medical science. The scrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption, and every form of Scrofula and blood-taints, all yield to it. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering Coughs, it's an unequaled remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

"We promise to cure your Catarrh, perfectly and permanently, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing—or we'll pay you $500." That's what the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy say to every sufferer from Catarrh. And they mean it.

The only radical cure for rheumatism is to eliminate from the blood the acid that causes the disease. This is thoroughly effected by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Persist until cured. The process may be slow, but the result is sure.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

"Rot" Among Potatoes.

IT IS PREVALENT IN THREE COUNTIES OF THE STATE, AND MAY INCREASE.

Reports have been received from three counties at the office of the State Board of Agriculture showing the prevalance of "rot" among potatoes.

Secretary Edge thinks the trouble may increase if recent warm rains, and hot sun conditions continue, and he suggests the lifting of the crop from the ground as soon as the presence of the rot is detected. Where this is not practicable he suggests the lopping off of the tops of the affected sections of the patch.

Infancy to Old Age.

Nothing is more remarkable than the fact that a medicine which is powerful enough to cure the most horrible form of blood poisoning can be given with impunity to a little child that is ailing; and yet this is the record of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) It is a germ destroyer, a purifier, a great remedial agent; it is powerful, and yet harmless; it is a medicine that contains no mineral poisons; all its results are beneficent; it is compounded from nature's own laboratory, and works on nature's lines to cure disease; it restores, revives and reinvigorates the system; it may be used as a tonic by the most delicate women; it may be given to build up the constitution of a little child, or it may be employed to restore to health the unhappy victim of blood poisoning. In each case it will work wonderful results.

Young Men's Christian Association Entertainment Course 1891 and '92.

The association have arranged a course of six entertainments for this season and have secured talent that makes it such a literary treat as this town has never before had an opportunity to enjoy. The chief motive of the association is not to make money but to give full value to every purchaser of a ticket as the following program and testimonials will clearly show. The course will be opened on Friday evening October 9th, by Foster's New York Stars and Mecklem's Saxophone and Harp Soloists.

Note what the Press says of the combination:

"A superb musical event in this city was the concert at the Opera House last evening under the auspices of the Star entertainment course of Y. M. C. A. The music lovers of this city seldom have the pleasure of witnessing such an excellent display of talent as that of Foster's New York Stars. The audience was exceedingly large. The Morning Call, Harrisburg, Pa."

"The Harpist, Mr. H. Mecklem and the Saxophonist, Miss Bessie Mecklem, form a combination of peculiar interest and are the attraction of concert-goers. They play well, and the two instruments in conjunction are a genuine novelty. Miss Mecklem is a pupil of Lefebre, and her father is an accomplished Harpist. Their selections are of the pupular order, and their success as a new feature in an old field is assured.—Music and Drama.

Friday Evening, Nov. 6th, will be filled by Scott's Recitals.

"Mrs. Scott has an elegant stage presence, refined, high-bred features, and a voice beautifully modulated and of wide range. Mr. Scott is tall and dignified, gifted with a full, deep, round voice, which fills the hall to its farthest corner, and is magnetic in its quality. Every number of the program was exceedingly fine and rendered with grace and finish. The audience was large, and generous with recalls.—Daily Evening Item, Lynn, Mass.

The third entertainment will be a lecture by Col. J. P. Sanford on Friday evening Dec. 4th. It would be superfluous to praise Col. Sanford to the citizens of Bloomsburg who have heard him with so much pleasure. Jan. 26th, Tuesday evening, the Hon. Geo. R. Wendling will deliver one of his world renowned lectures. Bloomsburg will not soon forget his eloquent lecture when last here. "Saul of Tarsus."

The Ladies' Schubert Quartette of Boston will appear Friday evening Feb. 19th.

"The Quartette is composed of grace, beauty, and marvelous voices. Every selection of the program was a musical gem. Encore after encore greeted them, and the program was lengthened from ten to eighteen numbers.—Boston Transcript.

The course will be closed Friday evening March 25th, by J. Williams Macy of whom the Philadelphia Association says:

Y. M. C. A., Phila. May 29th, 1891,
My Dear Mr. Macy:—You must reserve us an evening for the coming season (your seventh consecutive year, I believe, on our Association Course.) I have thought year after year that it would be necessary to lay you aside for a while, but our people never cease to clamor for "Macy." So name a date, and if you have nothing new to give us, burnish up some of your "oft told tales" and come. We can stand them again."

Season ticket for this complete course of entertainment, with reserved seat, will cost but two dollars and will be offered to the public in a few days by members of the association and others who have taken an interest in the work. Arrangements will be made with Railroad Companies to enable citizens of surrounding towns to return after each entertainment. Get your tickets early and secure reserved seats for the course.

The Public is Cautioned

against fraudulent imitations and counterfeits of Dr. Pierce's medicines, which are sold at less than regular prices by dealers not authorized to sell the genuine medicines.

To prevent deception and fraud, these genuine medicines are sold only through druggists, authorized as agents, and always at these long established prices:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (the remedy for all diseases arising from a torpid liver of impure blood), $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (the remedy for woman's chronic weakness and derangement), $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets (the original and best Liver Pills), 25c. per vial.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, 50c. per bottle.

The genuine medicines can be sold only at these prices. But the important point is this; the genuine medicines cost you nothing, unless they help you. They're guaranteed in every case to benefit or cure, or the money is returned.

They're the cheapest medicines you can buy, for you pay only for the good you get—but they're the best medicines you can buy, or the makers could never afford to sell them on these terms.

Beware of dilutions, imitations, and all sorts of substitutes, offered at prices less than given above.

All school books at lowest prices at Mercer's Drug & Book Store.

All glasses fitted by J. G. Wells, the optician, at his office; or at his optical exhibit on the fair grounds by W. H. Sears will be guaranteed. Any necessary change can be made at Mr. Wells' office after fair week. 6t.

CORRUPTION CHARGED.

Treasurer Wright Accuses Philadelphia's Appraisers.

A SYSTEMATIC SWINDLING SCHEME.

Fictitious Persons Assessed and Others Able to Pay Left Off the Rolls—State and City Victimized by Alleged Dishonest Employes.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—City Treasurer W. E. Wright has forwarded a letter to Auditor General McCamant asking that he join with him in the dismissal of Mercantile Appraisers Edward N. Patton, Albert Crawford, Samuel F. Housemen, Harry Hunter and James F. Bell, constituting the present board of mercantile appraisers for the city and county of Philadelphia, and makes the following charges against them:

Charges of Corruption.

1. That the appraisers have regularly and deliberately, for the purpose of defrauding the state, assessed fictitious persons and those from whom no payment of mercantile taxes was or could be exacted.

2. That they have regularly exempted from the payment of the tax those who were subject to and perfectly able to pay it.

3. That they have grossly underrated many hundreds of prominent merchants and dealers for purposes best known to themselves.

A Systematic Swindling Scheme.

4. That they sent out notices of assessment placing certain taxpayers in a high class while they have returned them to this department as assessed in a lower class, thus enabling third parties to collect from the taxpayers the larger sum while the smaller amount only was paid into the treasury, and the state was defrauded of the difference.

5. That their plan as to reductions and exception has been a systematic scheme of swindling which has resulted invariably in oppression to the citizen, in loss to the state and in demoralization to the community.

THE WORLD OF POLITICS.

Young Garfield Snowed Under by the Anti-Sherman Men.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—At the state senatorial convention of districts Twenty-four and Twenty-six the late President Garfield's son, James R. Garfield, was a candidate from Lake county. His name was put before the convention by Captain Burrows, a political opponent of President Garfield during the latter's career. Young Garfield was snowed under on the first ballot by ex-Speaker Lampson, of Ashtabula. Lampson received 105 votes to Garfield's 65. What made the convention interesting was the fight between Sherman and Foraker, who are actively building fences for the United States senatorship. Lampson is a Foraker man and Garfield a Shermanite.

Wright for Auditor General.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Delegates are arriving slowly for the Democratic state convention to be held on Thursday. It seems to be the general belief here that Wright, for auditor general, and A. L. Tilden, for state treasurer, will be the ticket. Chairman Kerr has his headquarters at the Bolton House. Captain Skinner, of Fulton, will likely be temporary chairman of the convention and Congressman Mutchlet or Mortimer F. Elliott permanent presiding officer. The platform, it is said, will ignore all except state issues.

Prohibitionists at Albany.

ALBANY, Sept. 2.—The Prohibition convention was called to order this morning at Barman's Bleeker hall by Clay Bascom, of Troy. It is understood that a regular state ticket will be nominated.

It is hinted that there is a sentiment in favor of the proposed Republican nominee, Andrew D. White. Possible independent nominations for governor are William S. Wardell, W. Jenning Demarest, of New York city, and W. S. Powell, a wealthy farmer of Columbia county.

CAPTAIN PALMER'S APPOINTMENTS.

He Names the Men Who Will Serve on His Staff.

ALBANY, Sept. 1.—Captain John Palmer, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic of the United States, today made the following staff appointments: Senior aid-de-camp, C. Hull Grant, Department of New York; aides-in-camp, David S. Brown, Post 607, New York; George T. Pond, Kansas; Benjamin S. Lovell, Massachusetts; L. M. Case, Michigan; S. B. Jones, Nebraska; E. T. TIME'S REVENGES.

The Fate of General Miguel Lopez, Who Betrayed Emperor Maximilian.

It is now fully a quarter of a century since the merciful dispensation of Providence so clouded the Empress Carlotta's mind that she was spared a single pang of grief when her royal husband was slaughtered in Mexico.

For nearly a generation the widow of the unfortunate Maximilian has remained in ignorance of his fate. But slowly, and by almost imperceptible degrees, her mind has become clarified, and she is once more in the enjoyment of her faculties. Looking backward through the long years of darkness, that sad Mexican business in which she played the part of heroine seems to her nearly a dream. It is well that it is so. Carlotta is not an old woman, she is hardly 45, and something in her future may yet compensate her for her bitter past.

But the same day that her recovery was announced also brought the intelligence that General Miguel Lopez had been bitten by a mad dog and was under the Pasteur treatment.

This Lopez was the trusted officer who betrayed Maximilian to his bloodthirsty enemies—the wretch whose evil work caused Carlotta's insanity. After living all these long years, despised by even his own countrymen, and scorned by his wife for his treason, he has perhaps met his doom. But whether he recovers or not what fate could be more fitting for this false friend, who sold his benefactor?

Time brings its revenges. As the traitor Lopez sinks out of sight in the lurid shadows now descending upon him, his victim Carlotta comes once more into the light of day, serenely beautiful, once more herself, the most charming woman that has worn a crown since Eugenie in her happiest days. Dissolving views—lights and shadows—they make up life!—[Atlanta Constitution.

The Barber Discourses.

He had spread on the lather and was strapping the razor.

"Some folks say barbers talk too much," said he, "but I have been in the business these 20 years and I never noticed it."

A gentleman rode by in his carriage.

"There goes old Biggins," said the barber. "He shaves himself. There is one thing I never could understand about rich men. Why is it that as soon as a man gets a lot of money his opinion at once becomes valuable? Why is it that when a man has invented a potato peeler on an idea which his wife gave him and has made a fortune out of it, he at once becomes an oracle and can answer knotty questions in ethics or metaphysics or political economy to everybody's satisfaction? I can't seem to reason it out why a man who has run a milk route for 37 years and hidden the proceeds of it under the corner of the carpet until he becomes rich enough to retire, should know more about therapeutics than a whole convention of doctors and a revised edition of materia medica, but the world takes his diagnosis of every disease, physical, mental or moral, political or ecclesiastical. I knew a man once who went West because he couldn't make a living at anything at home. Going over a mountain one day he stubbed his toe on a nugget of gold and shoveled up enough to make him rich. When he came back home the people thought they had all been mistaken when they judged him to be a fool. He had money, you see, and that made him wise. There was another man in our town who lent his brother some money and when the time came to pay it the brother had nothing but some land in Chicago—bog land at that. The man didn't want to take it—said it wasn't worth paying taxes on. His brother said it would make him rich some time; that the city would grow up to it. The man called him a fool, but he took the land because it was all his brother had. The brother is still poor, and his opinion isn't worth the wind it takes to express it, but the man sat still and that land made him rich and an oracle. People point to him as a great financier and seek his advice in the matter of getting rich or getting religion or anything else. Maybe you remember when Rufus Hatch was rich, how people clamored for his opinions; how they would travel half way across the continent to get him to give them 10 minutes of advice. Don't you know how the newspapers used to be full of his wise sayings—philosophical things about the best way to cook a shad or to buy a horse, or to hold your cue at billiards? Why, any editor in New York would have given Rufus Hatch a dollar a minute to talk for publication on any subject under the sun or above it. Rufus Hatch is poor now. He was sued for a few dollars a little while ago and couldn't satisfy the judgment. You never hear of anybody wanting his opinion these days, though he probably knows a heap more than he did when he was rich. I tell you, sir, money makes the mare go, and the opinion, too. A poor man must keep his mouth shut in this world. Nobody wants to hear what he has to say.

"Powder, sir? Thank you, sir. Come again.

Edison Has Learned to Eat.

Edison, the electrician, knows more about pabulum than he knew in other times. A few years ago, when wholly absorbed with his electrical experiments, he could hardly be induced to eat enough to keep himself going, as he could not spend the time for it, though often hungry. The only way he could be made to take proper nourishment was by leaving tempting eatables all over his laboratory and his house, on his work table, beside his machinery, in his hat, on his shelves, or some other place where they were constantly before his eyes. At times, while trying conclusions with electricity, he would seize a snack of pie, or while engaged in ponderation he would indulge in some fruit or masticate something else. For years "the wizard of Menlo Park" was thus negligent of himself, but within the last five years he has changed all that, and now does his duty at the table, though he has not yet mastered all the mysteries of electricity, and is called "Tom" by some of his friends.

NAMES FOR CARS.

Their Choice a Task That Worries Railroad Officials.

There is a young man in one of the offices of each of the great sleeping car companies who is engaged every day, except Sunday, of course, in bending over an atlas searching for suitable names for the sleeping, dining, and parlor coaches which are turned out by the company. It is no small matter when you come to understand that every name must signify something, and that there are already on the road many hundreds of such coaches and new ones being turned out at the rate of two or three hundred a year. When the first sleepers were built the owners took the alphabet, lettering the first one "A," and so on until the alphabet run out. Then commenced the search for names. The first sleepers to be named were those run on the Pennsylvania limited between New York and Chicago. They were named for the various nations, America being the first one chosen. The original sleepers are (those first named) America, England, France, Russia, Scotland, Germany, and so on.

The next names were taken from the various towns through which the road runs. If the road was in Ohio, for example, the sleepers on such roads were named for some of the principal towns and cities in that State. This plan, however, was soon deemed unadvisable, as it sometimes becomes necessary to transfer the sleepers to roads in other States. Then came the plan of naming the coaches after the sections of the country. Those which run on the roads of the West were given Indian names.

As far as possible it is now the rule for the names of the palace coaches to bear some relation to the nature of the business in the section where sleepers run. For instance, on the roads running out of Washington there are such names on the sleepers as "Senator," "Diplomate," "Congress," etc.

On a few lines which traverse noted battlefields some of the sleepers are named in honor of famous generals. The books of one of the principal companies show that Achilles, Ajax, and Ulysses have been honored on wheels.

The present is an age of colleges. These institutions have associated with their curriculum boating, football, and other athletic exercises. This same company concluded for awhile to embalm the names of the leading literary institutions by painting their names on their sleeping cars. This was the most popular idea which the company had adopted.

But there is a limit to noted schools in America, just as there is a limit to the alphabet, and it was soon discovered that there were not enough colleges to go round, or, which was the same thing, there were too many sleeping cars.

Then commenced the hunt on the atlas for names. The system of naming is now followed in this manner: A young man is employed to make out an alphabetical list from the atlas. Having selected his name, he goes to the root of it, and ascertains its origin and significance. When a list is prepared it is passed to the vice president of the company, who adopts or rejects.

Sometimes suggestions are sent in by outsiders. They are filed away, and if any of the names thus suggested are adopted in the course of construction they find their way to the gate of the traveling public.

Dining cars are named, as far as the names signify, for rivers, lakes, and bays. In the West for Indian chiefs. Parlor cars are nearly always feminine in nomenclature. The mythological deities on the feminine side have been liberally honored. The names of some of the more notable female characters in history and fiction have been transferred to these palace cars of the rail.

The instruction to the young man whose business it is to keep up the list is to get short names where they have any significance, keeping in mind at the same time those which are most euphoneous.

This is a busy age. It not only costs less to paint a short name, but you do not want to stop to read or write such a word as Assiniboine when there are so many shorter ones, and ones which are so much smoother to speak and which mean more.

The naming of these cars is no small job, and the man who has triplets to christen is not half so much worried about names as the vice president of a sleeping car company.—Chicago Tribune.

Meaning of the Word "Doll."

Numbered with other problems referring to small matters is the one why the little mannikin so enjoyed by girls is called a "doll" instead of, as the French do, a "puppet" or, with the Italians, a "bambino," or baby. With a view to setting at rest the minds of the little women on this subject, Golden Days has investigated the meaning of the word "doll." It says "To explain, it is necessary to go back to the Middle Ages, when it was the fashion all over the Christian world for mothers to give their little children the name of a patron saint. Some saints were more popular than others, and St. Dorothea was at one period more popular than all. Dorothea, or Dorothy, as the English have it, means a 'gift from God.' But Dorothea or Dorothy is much too long a name for a little, toddling baby, and so it was shortened to Dolly and Doll, and from giving the babies a nickname it was an easy step to give the name to the little images of which the babies were so fond."

Good for Them.

Young men as a rule need discipline, and it is a good thing for a youngster to be "knocked about" in the world, though his soft hearted parents may not think so. All youths, or, if not all, certainly nineteen-twentieths of the sum total, enter life with a surplusage of self conceit. The sooner they are relived of it the better. If, in measuring themselves with wiser, older, and more experienced men, they discover it is unwarranted, and get rid of it gracefully of their own accord, well and good; if not, it is desirable for their own sakes that it be knocked out of them.

EVA AT THE FOOTLIGHTS

Starring in New Jersey as Mrs Robert Ray Hamilton.

THE PLAY IS "ALL A MISTAKE.

The Plot of Her Sensational Piece Is Founded Upon Her Affair with Hamilton, but She Figures as a Heroine of High Character—Josh Mann the Villain.

BOONTON, N. J., Sept. 2.—That curious woman who calls herself Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton, but whom the courts decided to be Mrs. Joshua Mann, has once more shuffled the cards and has made a new deal in the entertaining if uncertain game of adventure which she began so many years ago. In this small New Jersey town she made her debut as an actress last night in a play embracing and centering about the incidents of her life with Robert Ray Hamilton. Months ago it was known that some one had written a play for her which was to be called "The Habbertons," and it was also known that Habberton was selected because it would suggest to the public the fact that the play would deal with the Robert Ray Hamilton episode.

"All a Mistake."

Eva has been spending the months of retirement in restoring her shattered nerves and in developing that histrionic talent which every adventuress is confident she possesses. That she studied assiduously and with some intelligence was shown by her performance last night.

During the last two months rehearsals have been frequent. Among the first moves Manager Gardiner made was to change the title of the play. He decided that "The Habbertons" was not as attractive as it might be, and substituted "All a Mistake," relying upon the publishing of the name, Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton, in big black type just under the title, to put people in mind of what was "all a mistake."

Her Style of Play Bill.

There has not been any great amount of money back of the enterprise. For the past week various small New Jersey towns have been billed with posters reading like this:

THE SEASON'S SENSATION.

MRS. ROBERT RAY HAMILTON,

UNDOUBTEDLY THE MOST FAMOUS WOMAN IN THE LAND,

FOR ONE NIGHT ONLY,

In her beautiful, realistic and pretty romantic drama, entitled

ALL A MISTAKE.

SUPPORTED BY A COMPETENT COMPANY OF METROPOLITAN PLAYERS.

Eva as a Heroine.

About 250 people came out to see her in the evening. The plot of the play follows the incidents known to the public, but it follows them in a distorted way. Eva Mann is made out to be a heroine and a martyr. Robert Ray Hamilton as a weak but noble hearted man of the world. Both are victims of the wiles of a character who is supposed to be Josh Mann and of another character, a cast off mistress of the hero, who never appeared. Robert Ray Hamilton is masquerading under the name of Roland Livingstone. Josh Mann is called Ivan Vanteck. Eva Mann is called Nadine, a friendless orphan, surrounded by low and vicious persons. Nurse Donnelly may be strainedly discovered in a Mrs. Preston, who is a drunken housekeeper for the Livingstones.

The Plot of the Play.

To strip the characters of their names in the play, Robert Ray Hamilton is made to meet and love Eva Mann, thereby enraging his bosom friend, Josh Mann, and his cast off mistress. The wicked Josh hires a man to personate a priest, and thus when Robert Ray and Eva think they are married, they are not. Eva finds out the truth through the drunken housekeeper, thinks Robert Ray has deceived her, and prepares to fly. She is prevented, and a second and genuine marriage takes place. They go to the seashore, followed by the machinations of the same villains.

The drunken housekeeper comes in with a knife and tries to stab Eva; Robert Ray interferes and accidentally stabs the drunken housekeeper. Crowd rushes in.

Eva Takes the Blame.

Eva takes the blame and Robert flies—which is a new and much revised version of the story of the crime for which Eva did time in the Trenton penitentiary. The last act does not pretend to follow the facts, unless it is intended as a sort of prophecy, for in it Eva is about to marry Josh because she thinks Robert Ray is dead, and would wish her to marry his bosom friend. But Robert Ray comes back just in the nick o' time, and villain Josh sneaks away exposed, while the castoff mistress takes poison and dies.

She Makes Up Well.

Eva certainly makes up well. Her stage presence takes ten years from her life and much of the hardness from her face. Considering the fact that she never acted before on the stage, her poses and her stage walk are quite good. Her form shows to advantage, and her bare arms are round and white and tapering.

But when it comes to reading the lines Eva Mann is not there at all. If ever a play demanded tragedy of this sky piercing sort this play requires it. Eva Mann expressed tremendous passion in her gestures, while her voice had about as little excitement in it as a glass of rain water. The contrast was highly entertaining.

The Star Was Overshadowed.

When she said, "Oh, that Roland were here in spirit," she waved her arms and body frantically, but maintained an even tone set aside in good society for observations about the weather. When she cast up her eyes and tried to blush it was a cause for a far from polite titter in the Opera house. The company is about of the barn storming average with one or two exceptions, who are a trifle above it. Mrs. Mann's gowns would not create a sensation on a city stage. But in her costume in the last act she won great applause, her neck and arms showing to fine advantage. The lady who played the cast off mistress did very creditably, acting far better than the star.

Mr. Scott Removed to Newport.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 2.—W. L. Scott passed a better night, and at a conference of his physicians it was decided to remove him to Newport without delay. President Newell's private car was made ready, and at 5:30 last evening was attached to the Lake Shore limited, containing besides Mr. Scott and the immediate members of the family Drs. Pepper and Brendes, Matthew H. Taylor and R. H. Townsend, of Philadelphia. The ex-congressman presented a sad picture as he was lifted from his carriage to the private car.

BALMACEDA WAS BEATEN.

The Chilian Insurgents Have Won Their Long Struggle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Acting Secretary Wharton, of the state department, received the following cablegram last night from United States Consul McCreary at Valparaiso:

VALPARAISO, Aug. 28.—Battle fought near city this morning. Government forces badly beaten. Heavy loss both sides. City surrendered to opposition, but in hands of admirals of American, German, French and English fleets for good order. No communication with Santiago. Opposition forces now entering the city.

The official news of the insurgent victory in Chili settles beyond doubt the conflicting reports of the past few days concerning the condition of affairs at the seat of war. The receipt of dispatches from Valparaiso telling of a victory for the Balmacedists is explained by state and navy officials as resulting from Balmaceda's control of the cable line from that city.

Santiago Sacked by a Mob.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Herald's Valparaiso cable says: The Chanaral regiment of the Congressional army took formal possession of Santiago Sunday night, and practically the last act in the bloody drama of revolution which has torn Chili to pieces for the past seven months is closed. The capital city was in the hands of a bloodthirsty mob, and while it was unable to satisfy its murderous instincts, it did destroy a vast amount of property.

Comparative order has at last been restored in this city. It took drastic measures to do it. Rioters who were caught in the work were summarily dealt with, and many of them were shot out of hand.

These prompt measures have cooled the ardor of the law breakers at last, but rioting was not stopped until property estimated to be worth $1,800,000 had been destroyed. Admiral Brown has had a long consultation with the leaders of the Junta and his explanations have had the effect of putting an end to the irritation against the Americans. The Junta are exceedingly anxious to secure recognition from the United States government, and are now hopeful that it will be accorded them.

Basquedano Temporary President.

VALPARAISO, Chili, via GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 1.—Order is gradually being restored in Chili. General Basquedano has been recognized as president ad interim of the republic by the members of the Junta here and little doubt is felt but that this action will be ratified by the members now en route from Iquique.

They Don't Like Eagan.

VALPARAISO, Sept. 2.—There is no disguising the fact that there is a very bitter feeling against the Americans on the part of the successful revolutionists. This feeling is so strong that unless it is placated in some way it may seriously affect American commercial interests in Chili for some time. The capture of the Itata first created the impression that the United States government was actively unfavorable to the revolutionary cause.

Then other things have served to strengthen the feeling against the United States. Not the least important among them is the very general belief that Minister Eagan has been an active partisan of Balmaceda and has used his influence in preventing the state department from recognizing the belligerent rights of the insurgents.

Admiral Brown's action in refusing to give up the political refugees who have found an asylum aboard his ships has also added to the general irritation.

The feeling against Mr. Egan is very violent and there is little question that his recall will soon be demanded.

Balmaceda Reported Killed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A report reached this city yesterday from Santiago that Balmaceda, ex-dictator of Chili, had been killed in the mountains while trying to effect his escape.

Died in an Old Well.

HARTFORD, Sept. 1.—Frederick Bushenhagen and his wife Emily, each past seventy, who came from Germany forty years ago and who lived on a farm half a mile from the main road, in a secluded section of the town of Bloomfield, west of Hartford, were found Monday in an old well on their place. The bodies showed evidence that the couple had been murdered.

Fassett's Courtesy to Mrs. Harrison.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Collector Fassett will place the revenue cutter Grant at the disposal of Mrs. President Harrison today for the purpose of going down the bay and meeting the Majestic, which has Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison on board. The cutter will not take the ladies off the Majestic on account of the danger attending such transfers.

New York State Equalization Table.

ALBANY, Sept. 2.—The state board of equalization have issued the annual table of equalization of the state. The total assessed and equalized value of real estate is $3,397,234,679. The total of real and personal property is $3,779,993,746. There is no change made, the amount deducted from certain counties being added to others.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERSON, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1889.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

TURN ABOUT

and look around as often as you like. See what others offer in the way of Bread, Plain and Fancy Cakes, Confectionery, Etc. When you've picked out the best, compare it with what we have to show you. We're not fearful of the result. We expect competition, we prepare for it; invite it, and in a friendly way, defy it. You are judge and jury. We cheerfully await your verdict.

A Real Balsam is Kemp's Balsam

The dictionary says, "A balsam is a thick, pure aromatic substance flowing from trees." Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is the only cough medicine that is a real balsam. Many thin, watery cough remedies are called balsams, but such are not. Look through a bottle of Kemp's Balsam and notice what a pure, thick preparation it is. If you cough use Kemp's Balsam. At all druggists'. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

A Large Increase.

IN THE PROFITS FROM THE FARM.

THEY WILL EXCEED ONE BILLION DOLLARS MORE THIS YEAR THAN DURING THE RECENT YEARS OF DEPRESSION.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Farm proffts will be one billion dollars more this year in the United States than they have been during the recent years of depression. At least this is the estimate put forward by the American Agriculturist in its annual review of the harvests to be published in the forthcoming September issue of that magazine. On the basis of present prospects this authority estimates the corn crop of 1891 at 2,000,000,000 bushels, wheat 500,000,000 bushels and oats 622,000,000 bushels against 1,500,000,000 and 524,000,000 bushels respectively in 1890 and 1,700,000 and 578,000,000 bushels as the average for the preceding eleven years. This makes the total prospective crop of corn, wheat and oats 3,122,000,000 bushels or 28.8 per cent. greater than last year, and 14.7 per cent. over the average of the preceding eleven years.

The American Agriculturist believes that unless unexpected influences wholly change the current of events, the value of corn on the farm will average in December fully fifty cents a bushel, wheat $1 per bushel and oats at least forty cents. On this basis the value of the corn crop will be $1,000,000,000, wheat $500,000,000 and oats $250,000,000 or a total of $1,750,000,000. This is $450,000,000 more than the value of these crops in 1890, and $625,000,000 more than the value of the average of these crops from 1880 to 1890 inclusive. Cotton and rice will command better prices than last season. Cattle are worth one-third more than eighteen months ago, with other live stock in proportion. Tobacco is advancing heavily for cigar leaf (contracts being made for the crop in the field at an advance of fifteen to fifty per cent, over last year.) Hops are firm at good prices, winter fruit will command large values and all vegetables are yielding fairly with every indication of a remunerative market. The export outlook was never better, immensely increased sums will be sent to the United States for our product.

Ulterior influences may of course interfere with this brilliant prospect, but we confess we are beginning to share more fully the hopes of certain well informed, but conservative agriculturists, who predict better profits for the farmers of the United States during the next five years than ever before. The American Agriculturist says, "there will be no return to war prices, but the money received above expenses will go further and enable the farmer to get more value out of his profits than at any previous period."

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted.
